8 Holders on the
Right are for runners-up

Black goes first

The BLUE pickleball distinguishes which category takes the next open court.

To begin: As players arrive, their paddles are placed in the holders. The first 8, 12 or 16 players (depending on the day) take the courts. Later arriving players place their paddles in runners-up open holders.

After each game is finished, ALL players leave that court and announce the court is open. They then place their paddles in respective holders in the categories of winners or losers. Winners and Losers MUST split for their next game.

The position of the GREEN pickleballs designate who is up next.

The BLUE pickleball will be moved from “winners” side to “runners-up” side, and back-and-forth as needed to create fair court time.
